

REVENANT

REVENANT

NO. NOT YET. THERE IS MORE TO BE DONE.

What it must be like, standing at the veil between life and death. Would one remember who they were before? I've only ever seen a Revenant once in my life. A noble warrior, his spirit clinging coldly to his body. His eyes, pale motionless pools of determination. His strikes slow, yet brutally powerful. I pity any warrior who crosses his path.

– Excerpt from a tattered journal.

A Revenant is bound to the mortal plane, driven by unfulfilled purpose, revenge, or perhaps even love. They exist on the razor's edge between life and death, drawing upon the powers of the afterlife to fuel their undying might. Strike the Revenant down, and it rises again stronger and more determined than before.

Slow, but strong. Draw upon your undying might, taking fewer, but more powerful actions in battle.

Face your foes as both a powerful fighter and a wrathful spirit. Become a spectral wraith and unleash deathly powers.

Command fear in the hearts of your foes and bolster the will of your allies.

Neither living nor dead. Shrug off the afflictions of mere mortals as you embrace the line between life and death.

Class complexity:

REVENANT

Key Stats: WIL, STR Hit Die: 1d4 Starting HP: 7
Saves: WIL+, INT- Armor: All Armor Weapons: 2-Handed Melee
Starting Gear: Rusty Mail, Long Sword, Cherished Memento

LEVEL 1 Undying Might. While above 0 HP, add your max HP to all melee attacks you make. You have a max of 2 actions (while living and Dying).
Otherworldly Constitution. Whenever you roll a Hit Die to recover HP, you may instead recover that many Wounds (don't add your STR if you do this).

LEVEL 2 Spectral Form. While Dying, you don't make STR saves to attack, and:
Hate. (Range 8) 1d8+WIL+Wounds (ignoring armor). Every 5th level deals +Wounds damage (e.g., at lvl 10 deal 1d8+WIL+(4xWounds)).

Flavor is free! What is the your spectral form? Your own stubborn will? An evil possessing creature? Something you've made a bargain with? An ancestor or other friendly being? It's up to you!*

LEVEL 3 Subclass. Choose a Revenant subclass.

LEVEL 4 Master of Undeath. Choose a Revenant Special Ability.
Key Stat Increase. +1 WIL or STR.
